Nov. 2011

Welcome to second semester at Norwood District High School. Our staff are looking forward to challenging your children academically and through extra-curriculars. This semester promises to bring exciting opportunities in sports and the arts, our Writer's Guild will continue to publish the work of our young writers, and our first-ever Guitar Course is up and running!

We look forward to christening our new lights in the Lecture Hall at the first Java Fest. Our gymnasium has a fresh coat of paint, and we have a new school sign. A facelift to the front foyer is on the list as well as more improvements to the exterior of the school, so stay tuned for those!

This is a busy place with a lot going on all with the goal of making your son/daughter's educational experience a positive and fulfilling one. At this time of the school year, review with your child their progress over semester one. Set goals for this semester. Even small steps can have a big impact such as getting up 5 minutes earlier to make the bus and therefore ensure getting to school each day; setting aside a specific time to review notes and do homework each night. Make sure you ask your child about their day. While you might not get a detailed response, you will be sending the message that you care about how they are doing at school; that it is important to you.

As always, if your son/daughter is struggling with any facet of school life, we have a whole staff of dedicated teachers and administration who want to help. Please contact us if you become aware of anything that is getting in the way of your child achieving their potential. We will be glad to work on a solution with you and your teen.
